Hill School of Fort Worth is looking for a dynamic, hard-working educator to work with students who learn differently beginning with the 2022-2023 school year. Located in southwest Fort Worth, Hill School is a college preparatory, private school for K-12 students with dyslexia, dysgraphia, dyscalculia, ADHD, high-functioning ASD and other learning differences. Our dedicated faculty enjoy small-group instruction in core subject areas to ensure that all students have an opportunity to reach their full academic potential. Students also explore interests and affinities through athletics and fine arts.

This position reports directly to the Assistant Head of School and will work with students in grade 3 or 4 providing instruction for classes limited to no more than 12 students. Our ideal candidate builds on the work of early childhood educators, continuing to nourish a child's joy of discovery and passion for learning, and provides for the child's social, emotional, physical, intellectual, and moral growth — giving special attention to the mastery of those basic skills and concepts that are the foundation of all future learning. This person must be able to work collaboratively and communicate clearly, consistently and effectively with colleagues, students and families.

The ideal candidate should be personable, creative, flexible and possess a genuine love for learning and teaching. A sense of humor and instructional expertise are both a must. Experience preferred. This position requires an August 1st start date and dyslexia training at some point during the summer.

We are hopeful that you'll consider Hill as your first choice employer.
